Hereof, This Board feels bound to respect the expressions of the members of this Association, assembled in a meeting called in pursuance of the provisions of the Constitution, and

Whereas, At a general meeting of this Association held Nov. 1, 1851, a resolution was passed, "that especially regard be given to the Board of Directors to record the resolution passed by them Oct. 4, 1851, admitting Lawyers' Clerks reciting salary, on the same terms as Merchants' Clerks."

Therefore, This Board feels bound to respect the expressions of the members in this. One Oct. 4, 1851, admitting Merchants' Clerks, receiving salary, and recorded at the request of a meeting of the members, is clearly justified by the construction of our Constitution, under which many persons have been admitted as members on the same terms as Merchants' Clerks; and that the passage of the said resolutions did not hinder the powers delegated to the Board of Directors by the Constitution.

NEW-YORK DAILY TRIBUNE.

VOL. XI....NO. 3,292.

NEW-YORK, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1851.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

WOMAN AND HER NEEDS. By Mrs. E. GAKES SMITH, author of "Shes Child," "Last April," &c. 12mo, 120 pages—price 25 cents. New-York: FOWLER & WELLS, Publishers.

The object of the work is to raise woman to her proper sphere in life, and to show how necessary it is to woman's happiness and well-being of man. The author discusses elegantly the wrongs under which her laborers—of the degradation to which they are subjected by the law of the land, and of the means by which she may shake off her fetters." (Electric.)

It is evident that the rights and wrongs of women have been set forth with much clearness, good temper, and good sense, by the present writer. She has evidently mastered the subject by reason of her experience.
She has gained too deep an insight into the true position and destiny of her sex to need the aid of exaggeration or sentimentality for the support of her appeals. Her language is marked by argument in every way, and by the force of production of the author, and has given her such an elevated rank among living American writers, this volume exhibits an earnestness, a business-like vigor, and a practical wisdom, which will insure it a hospitable reception among general readers.
